

Barbara Terry

America's Most Unique Auto Expert

Barbara Terry grew up on a Texas ranch surrounded by six brothers and a variety of tractors, trucks and muscle cars. It's no surprise that she developed a passion for all things powered by gasoline or diesel fuel. Today, Barbara is in demand as an automotive expert and off-road driver.

She writes a weekly auto advice column for the Houston Chronicle and examiner.com, has authored many Web and print articles. Her first book, Pro Athlete Rides, is due in bookstores Spring 2010.

She's graced the cover of Kiplinger's Magazine, and has been featured in print over 40 times and on more than 350 national and regional TV and radio programs for CNN, CBS, ESPN, Inside Edition, iVillage, Speedtv, CW, ABC, FOX, WB, SpikeTV, Discovery Channel, TNT and DIY Network.

Her unique expertise, combined with her fabulous feminine looks, have brought her numerous product endorsement opportunities for General Motors, Goodyear, Ford Motor Company, Sylvania, Pennzoil, RainX, Shell Oil, eBay Motors, Turtle Wax, Gillette, Brakebleeder, FRAM and Prestone.

Barbara's also used her on-camera charisma as a television and Internet host for Turtle Wax, About.com and Gillette, and is currently in production as host of 400 videos for AutoMD.com. She's also hosted live events for Goodyear, General Motors and American Airlines.

She's recently signed on to a 2010 hunting/fishing/off-roading series, Gainin' Ground for the Outdoor Channel. Barbara and co-host Mike DiSario will chase big game throughout North America.

And if that's not enough, Barbara owns and operates her own off-road race team, participating in such events at the Baja 500 and 1000 and the Vegas to Reno Off-Road Race. During the 2008 Baja 500, Barbara made more than 15 million media impressions via viral Internet, TV, radio and print interviews. She did more media interviews than all of the other 309 participants combined!

Get revved up, hit the gas and let Barbara Terry put you in the driver's seat!

Barbara Terry is beautiful, talented and completely unique. An experienced spokesperson, TV and Internet host and well-known racer, she is available for product endorsements, commercials, car shows, TV hosting, corporate events and autograph signings.
